

Rabies

Rabies is always fatal without treatment.

Most people get the infection through bites from infected dogs. Rabies amongst dogs is widespread in large parts of the world (outside Europe).

Consider having a course of pre-exposure rabies vaccines before travelling to countries where rabies is present in animals.

Do not pet dogs or other animals abroad!
The animals do not need to show any signs of rabies to be contagious.

Find travel advice for your destination at fhi.no/reiserad